

FINAL TRANSNATIONAL MEETING: CYPRUS

The meeting in Copenhagen marked the beginning of the final phase of the project: the piloting of the four workshops, the last meeting in Cyprus, and the Multiplier Events in the partner countries.

On 2 and 3 March, the project partners met in Nicosia, Cyprus. It was an important meeting as we were in the last phase of the project and there are still many details to be clarified.

We clarified the processes for the development of the pilot tests, the multiplier events, the final steps of dissemination and also aspects about the final reports for the national agency.

PILOTING SESSIONS

After the meeting in Cyprus, and with the test plan in place, each of the partners carried out the piloting sessions. Overall, the results were positive and we were able to draw a clear conclusion regarding the virtual reality scenarios: the work was worthwhile. In addition, we will continue to refine all those points of improvement that we have identified.

MULTIPLIER EVENTS

Finally, and after the pilot tests, the multiplier events were our most important goal. The face-to-face dissemination events are an important part of the final phase, as it is through them that we publicise the final products of our project. It is also a great opportunity to network and meet new collaborators.

We held these events in each of the partner countries, in our offices and in education centres, using the local language and getting very close to the target group.
